☐ HBCU Educated Essay NYRA was a Nurturing, Youthful, Resilient, and Ambitious young lady. These attributes along with her community involvement on and off campus demonstrates how she loved and cared for family, friends and animals. She enjoyed the ideas of adulthood but was captivated by the strong ideology and privilege of her youth. She used her religious beliefs to help guide her decisions towards her life goals. She remained resilient and did not allow her medical condition to dictate her future. In school, she grew with ambition towards anything she put her mind to (e.g. starting IG-DollCloset_Skegee on-line store). Please tell us more about yourself and why you think you should receive this scholarship named in Nyra's honor. Explain why you chose an HBCU, and your reasons for pursuing a degree in your chosen major as well as your personal and professional goals as they relate to your field of study.

☐ LIVE LIKE NYRA Essay "Being a single parent is twice the work, twice the stress and twice the tears, but also twice the hugs, twice the love and twice the pride." - Unknown Nyra shared a very special bond with her mother. Being raised by a single parent allowed both Nyra and her mother to form a bond beyond just that of a parent and child. Rather, they are best friends. While it was not easy for her mother to be a single parent, it was in every way rewarding. Reviewing your relationship with your single parent/guardian(good or bad), how would you say this formed you into the individual you have become and in what ways do you plan to use what you have learned from this parent to support your future goals? Also, please discuss the differences and your opinion of single versus two parent/guardian households.
